

DEPEW HAS AN IDEA.

Let the Liquor Licenses in New York

Be Made Higher to Increase Municipal Revenues.

ITS POLITICAL EFFECT

It Would Guarantee the Germans Their Beer,

And Would Remove the Whisky Question from Politics.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The excise laws have begun to receive some attention from Republicans who discuss the problems which confront their victorious party. One of the first utterances in any sense public on this matter since the Republican victory of last Tuesday was that of Chauncey M. Depew. In a letter to a morning paper Mr. Depew said the "excise law should be so amended as to remove the liquor question from politics. If this is done we shall win the German vote and return New York permanently to the Republican column. Let us make haste slowly."

Mr. Depew was asked what suggestions he would make as to changes in the excise law of this state.

"When I read that letter saying the excise law should be amended so as to remove the liquor question from politics, I had in my mind the situation in Ohio," said Mr. Depew. "The law in that state, as I have been told by Senator Sherman and other public men, has resulted in taking the question wholly out of politics. They have an excise system which is such a satisfactory solution of the question that no member of the legislature dare hint at a change. To do so would be like signing his own political death warrant."

"One essential feature is this: The license fees are turned over to the various municipalities and go into the general fund of the municipality. The result is the taxes, which must be raised by the ordinary methods, to meet the municipal expenses, are greatly reduced. The trouble with the state now is the fees are so small that the aggregate in many places does not amount to much if turned into the common treasury, and thus made of benefit to the taxpayer."

"By making the license high enough and by putting the proceeds in the treasury of each town or city, the fees are so small that the aggregate in many places does not amount to much if turned into the common treasury, and thus made of benefit to the taxpayer."

COL. HOLLIDAY SUE

As a Director of the State Fair Association by Mail & O'Donald.

The Hall & O'Donald Lithographing company brought suit today to recover $944.71 from Col. C. K. Holliday, as one of the directors of the Kansas State Fair association. The firm claims the fees due for lithographed posters furnished in 1893 and 1894. They brought suit against the State Fair association as a corporation and got judgment for the amount asked, last week. But Sheriff Burdick Saturday returned the writ, reporting that he could find no property or other effects in the possession of the fair association to satisfy the levy.

Col. Holliday is one of the stockholders of the fair association to the "stated" amount of $500. Under the double liability clause of the Kansas statutes, he, with other stockholders, is liable for the debts of the association to twice that amount. His $1,000 liability in the fair therefore is just large enough to pay Hall & O'Donald's claim at 8 per cent interest.

There is an interesting legal point involved. There are thousands of "dummy" stockholders all over Kansas connected with various corporations, and if they are to be drawn into the financial misfortunes of these companies, with which they usually have nothing to do but lend their names, they will be interested in getting out as rapidly as possible.

A BIG PICTURE RUINED.

The "Battle of Gettysburg" Destroyed by a Storm at Sioux City.

SIoux CITY, Ia., Nov. 12.—During a heavy windstorm the roof of the temporary building, in which the $25,000 painting of the battle of Gettysburg, brought here from Chicago, is being exhibited, was blown off and great rents torn in the picture.

It was also soaked with rain, which afterwards froze stiff. The picture is almost irreparably damaged.

The Morrill club will give a dance at Lukens' opera house Nov. 13. You are invited.

PORT ARTHUR SURRENDER

The Japanese Take it After a Slight Resistance by the Chinese.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—A dispatch received here from Shanghai says that the Japanese captured Port Arthur yesterday morning after meeting with a feeble resistance on the part of the Chinese. Port Arthur was bombarded previous to the surrender. The Chinese laid down their arms and yielded themselves prisoners of war. The Chinese commanding officers abandoned Port Arthur during the night of November 6.

It is reported that some of the representatives of foreign powers will start for Peking immediately.

WILL GIVE UNITED STATES PRESTIGE Mediation Between China and Japan Would be a Big Thing For Us.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Up to noon today Japan had not accepted the offer of the United States to act as mediator in the war between Japan and China. Lengthy cablegrams are passing, however, between the Japanese capital and Washington with the prospect that a final decision will not be long deferred. It is felt in official circles here that the gravity of the action taken by the United States is not yet fully realized by the public, as it contemplates a foreign policy to which the Hawaiian incident is said to be trifling in comparison. Should Japan and China accept the United States as mediator it will close the greatest war since the Franco-Prussian conflict, and this country will, for the first time, occupy a commanding position in deciding Asiatic questions which have heretofore had the attention of the European powers only. At present the European powers are endeavoring to reach an agreement among themselves by which they will forcibly intervene.

Japan's final reply is expected almost hourly. If favorable, as is anticipated here, an armistice will undoubtedly be proclaimed by both countries and the battling about Wiju and Moukden will cease.
